> For some, it is a loved one, family member, passionate friend or partner [...]. For others, it may be a friend of a friend or a persyn that you met while milling about between paths of entwined chaparral [...]. To some, it is another face and name of a persyn whose heart was so mountainous and compassion so mammoth that they fell subject to scrutiny of a cold, heartless state. [...]. These four are in trouble for pouring their hearts into efforts to stop vivisection within the University of California. While we are supporting these four, don't forget the animals that they worked so hard to advocate for.
