Employing newly released documents culled from five non-business-related alliances with mostly social concerns, known today as “expressive” interest groups, Libby examines how they confront powerful industries. Eco-Wars investigates an anti-biotechnology campaign aimed at drug companies; an animal rights effort directed against the agricultural industry; an anti-pesticide campaign focused on the chemical industry; a property rights fight against environmental groups; and a secondhand smoke campaign opposing tobacco companies. In addition to drawing on previously classified files, Eco-Wars also incorporates analysis of interviews with both activists and industry representatives. — Columbia University Press website.
