Demélas, Marie-Danielle, and Nadien Vivier, eds. Les propriétés collectives face aux attaques libérales (1750-1914). Europe occidentale et Amérique latine [Collective properties in the face of liberal attacks (1750-1914). Western Europe and Latin America]. Rennes: Presses Universitaires de Rennes, 2003. This volume provides a renewed vision of the issue of collective properties, an issue previously distorted by passions, and now mostly forgotten. Liberal doctrines anathematized lands that they considered obstacles to progress. These lands generate a new thinking that can be integrated into an overall reflection on environmental management and the concept of sustainable agriculture.
