Grove, Richard, "Editorial" for Environment and History 3, no. 3, (Oct., 1997): 253–254. doi:10.3197/096734097779555791 . This issue of Environment and History completes a third year of the new journal, and presents a useful opportunity for reflection about the state of the discipline. As this issue goes to press popular concern about climate change and a thirst for accurate knowledge about global environmental change and, implicitly, environmental history has reached some kind of a crescendo due to recent extreme events.
