In this issue of Earth First!, the editors discuss the journal's core topics, contributions, and accomplishments within the environmental grassroots movement in the US. The issue focuses on the half-million-acre Gros Ventre Range in northwest Wyoming, which was exploited by the Getty Oil Company for natural gas.

> The Oil and Gas War On the Wilderness is EARTH FIRST!'s number one issue for the Rocky Mountain West: the Gros Ventre is the first battle in that war.
