In this issue of Earth First! Journal Jake Jagoff gives an update on the occupation of the Samni Superstars, a ship heavily laden with tropical plywood from Indonesia. In addition, Don Smith features an interview with Lance Olsen, former President of the Great Bear Foundation, and Timothy Ballard discusses Native Americans' fight against the destruction of their lands.

> I consider it the objective of the Earth First! Journal to provide a forum for discussion and debate, for self-education and inspiration—the larger mission being to provide focus for organizing and, perhaps most importantly, for building unity among a diverse people; in essence, to serve the Earth First! movement, and the earth and all it's (sic) creatures.
