These EXIT Times, No. 1

These EXIT Times

Number One 1990 "May we live long and die out" English Edition

VHEMT growth creates need for newsletter

The Voluntary Human Extinction Movement (VHEMT) has grown to the point of needing a newsletter to keep worldwide members informed and in touch, and to let prospective Volunteers know about The Movement.

These EXIT Times hopes to voice the concerns of all of us who have volunteered to live long and die out.

Besides offering articles of interest to Volunteers, These EXIT Times lets others know that we're not just a bunch of misanthropes and anti-social, Malthusian misfits, taking morbid delight whenever disaster strikes humans. Nothing could be further from the truth. VHEMT is the humanitarian alternative to human disasters.

These EXIT Times doesn't carry on about how the human race has shown itself to be a greedy, amoral parasite on the once healthy face of planet Earth. We simply make our efforts no solution to the melancholy horrors which human activity is causing.

Rather, These EXIT Times promotes VHEMT as a positive, humane alternative to the callous exploitation and wholesale destruction of life on this planet.

As Volunteers know, the hopeful alternative to the extinction of wild lions, probably billions, of species of plants and animals is the voluntary extinction of one species, Homo sapiens.

Each time another one of us decides not to add another one of us to the burgeoning billions already infesting the planet, we've made another ray of hope shine through the gloom.

When every human makes the moral decision to live long and die out, all life on Earth will be free to live in its former glory, and all creatures will be free to live, die, evolve (if they believe in evolution), and will prosper, pain-away, as so many of Mother Nature's "experiments" have done throughout the years.

Volunteers to improve Quality of Earth's health

The relationship between human population density and quality of life is shown in the above graph. The left side shows the past... Earth's health was better when our numbers were fewer.

The right side shows the future... when we're gone. Earth will be in natural paradise thanks to VHEMT. Volunteers helping to improve our planet's quality of life.

The middle shows the present... here we have the choice of continuing to increase, or of taking responsibility for our activities.

The VHEMT and Volunteers are having an effect, when our growth rate stops growing.

This could occur as early as the beginning of the 21st century.

The ideal population size will be when growth actually stops and the number of humans on the planet becomes smaller each day.

Then, as more and more people choose not to add to the misery, the quality of all life on Earth will begin to improve.

Human life will begin to increase as we become more rare.

Wildlife which hasn't become extinct will begin to repopulate and wilderness will expand.

Thus, Volunteers for voluntary extinction must consider choosing a better life for all.
